

Activities and achievements

Running of a biopsychosocial group program developed by the University of Zurich containing the following elements:

- Stress
- Resources
- Mindfulness
- Communication
- Social competences

Projects

Integrative study of fatigue in order to propose an adapted treatment to the patients